

Does the money you spend on heating go right out the window?

Come to the City of San Leandro's Home Energy Efficiency Class and find out!

Learn how to save money and make your home more comfortable.

San Leandro residents that take the class get a free in home evaluation.

We'll show you exactly where you can make the biggest bang for your buck!

The evaluation consists of a pressurization test that dramatically shows exactly where your house is leaking. We'll also use our infrared camera to find cold spots and missing insulation and test your heating system for leaks!

The in home evaluation is included in the cost of the class*

*Similar testing can cost $200-$500!

Test is for San Leandro residents only.

We have nothing to sell, this is a City Program and is funded by a federal grant.

The next class is on Wednesday, July 27th at 6:30 pm in the South Office Conference Room at City Hall Plaza. Cost is $20 for San Leandro households and $30 for non-residents.
